Why so many extraterrestrial and spiritual beings are interested in us.

(under the title "Do not read this if you are a believer like me")

Greetings to all.

If you decided to read this article it means that you are probably an atheist. If not, if you are a believer like me, you will open a door difficult to close afterward. I have warned you!

If I transmit this message it is not lightheartedly. But this will lighten my burden of wanting to know too much. An Arab proverb says. If you have the pretension of wanting to tell the whole truth be sure to have beside you a well-saddled horse to be able to get away at full gallop.

The beginning of my reflection goes back to an information I received through inspired writing 10 years ago already, and was more or less embedded in a hundred pages of revelations. Here's the content.

My galactic brothers to whom I am the little terror, have returned. This affirmation isn't entirely just, since they have never totally abandoned us and have always kept an eye on us. Rather, I should say that they are here in a more intensive way since their other rebellious children, the earthlings, amuse themselves with some colossal forces that they barely understand. The immense energy compressed in certain minerals are remains of the anti world which are in dormancy on this side of the universe. I will explain it more in detail in the next exposé. But you should know, as of now, that the liberation too rapid of this energy disrupts the structure of the bodies, going as far as to their complete dissolution.

Your self-cancellation should not implicate a deflagration that could affect other worlds. Your nuclear bombs do not destroy only the physical body and its corresponding worlds, but with their vibratory blows, disintegrate and shatter in pieces all the subtle bodies and their particular universes. This energy strongly concentrated issued from the anti-world, when it is abruptly liberated, can somehow annihilate its opposite. It creates a hole, an empty space in this universe that is very difficult to fill. For these reasons, the manipulation of the anti-matter in this part of the universe is highly regulated and prohibited, especially to those who are thinking about using them for some purposes of destruction. My brothers are present more than ever since the end of the forties, since you have tampered with this dangerous power. All the places, the possible locations of experimentation have been put under high surveillance. If the unthinkable start of a massive destruction with such engines would be set in motion, in one fraction of a second, the angels of death would go into action.

It is a pretty name, the angels of death! I took it from your religious language to describe the beings whose mission is to eliminate everything that can be a serious threat to the whole. Usually, the death sentence of a harmful entity is left in the hands of its congeners. But the complete annihilation of an entity or a species, which means the destruction of all its possible bodies, depends on a precise group for whom it is their mission.

Individualism pushed to its extreme can become the start of a chaos. One cell in the universal body that decides to act entirely independent from the entity to which it belongs, can be the source of a cancer if it contaminates other cells with its behaviour. The respect of the entire being to which we belong is an essential condition. We can't act indefinitely in opposition to one's environment without creating an imbalance that threatens in a short or long term the entire universe. It is what happened in the past in your system and it is for that reason that it was put into quarantine.

With the exaggerated egocentrism, doubled with an unpredictable behaviour even chaotic, you also isolated yourselves from the rest of the world. We could only prevent this slipping from bringing a new important deflagration. We must tend toward the balance and harmony in this glorious body that the universe is. This is why we have brothers whose role is to destruct everything that seriously threatens the balance of the whole. If everything that we have done doesn't give the results anticipated, our brothers act for the good of the collectivity. Your freedom stops where the freedom of the other starts. Nobody has the right to live in a way that is a perpetual threat to his surroundings. We can control, neutralize your aggressive gestures, but your deeper emanations can touch us without us being able to avoid them completely.

You inflict pain and kill thousands of animals for your experimental research. You eliminate without too much sorrow the beings of your laboratories who have turned badly. Then, are you conscious that for the superior beings you can be considered as animals who have turned badly? But the wisdom of the elders allow these eliminations only when chaos has settled in and it is no longer possible, even with our currents of growth, to exert influence on the dangerous behaviour. We take care to arrive only rarely to these extreme situations. Even if in the past we had to let these brothers, that I call the angels of death, do as they wished.

It was seriously debated many times in your history, the possibility of destroying you completely as a race, including your survival in you subtle bodies. Fortunately, it was decided to operate some cleansing only, localized in some places or targeted on some individuals. It is always in the moments when the energies of hatred or violence have reached critical levels that my extra-terrestrial brothers have played a role to lower the pressure and thus, annul the threat to their world. They don't want to relive at any cost the errors of the past. They have often intervened, directly or indirectly, to make the empires too aggressive fall or stop the conflicts that degenerated in endless killings. Your actions belong to you, but your emanations which go through the stratosphere, so much they are projected with force, concern and implicate them. Whether it is the fruit of a city or a civilization, they saw to it that there wouldn't be any more excess.

We know that any life is precious and that if we alter only one of them, we alter automatically our own life. We form all the stitches of an immense cosmic fabric. Up to what point can we make holes in it before we provoke a big tear? Any life that we take, can alienate its destiny to ours. Who has the force and the particular aptitudes to become their tutor? Of how many entities can you become responsible by sealing their destinies to yours?

At different levels, you are very far away from our world and at the same time, you are intimately linked to it. What happens here on your planet can influence what happens at the other end of your galaxy. It is for that reason that the ways of communication are still closed between us.

It was an extract from a text that I received in 2003.

Three days ago I relapsed by sending an intervention on the same topic in a comment site. Here I transcribe part of it. Even though there is repetition it contains significant nuances:

Here is the reason of their more direct presence (extraterrestrial) since the fifties and the involvement of many races. All this comes down to the atomic energy that man discovered and started to utilize. Most of you heard about it but the information is drowned in a flood of assumptions that go in all direction. Here is the basic of what I know. The manipulation and utilization of atomic energy (nuclear and others) is highly regulated in this part of the universe, even banned. What is contained in certain minerals is an energy so concentrated that if liberated too quickly, it provokes a deflagration that creates a hole in the fabric of our universe. As a simplistic example, it is like some antimatter coming from an anti-world which after so much concentration therefore congeal, becomes matter in our world but liberated too quickly, regains its first condition and destroys its opposite in our world.

These holes are very dangerous because they are difficult to fill. Any matter at all vibratory levels is destroyed. If you don't understand, it implies that all form of life destroyed by an explosion of this sort is destroyed totally. Even more clearly, no possible survival on any vibratory plan, a final death. Some of these holes, if not caught in time can lead to tears that can upset vast territories. So you understand why they (extraterrestrials) do not laugh with us at this time. Many planets feel concerned because they are in danger at different levels. In front of this threat various peoples united. For now all atomic arsenal is under their surveillance and control. Without this threat that weigh on a very vast territory around the earth, they could have left us in peace in our evolutionary path and watch us only from a distance, incognito. They consider our genetic potential so unique and powerful that they are ready to do everything to save it. From this derives all that you know about their levies on abductees.

After I sent this last text, I laid down on my bed and while remembering my shipment I had a vision or rather a revelation.

I had never gone deeper into the implication that this involved. First, that we had an arsenal of bombs powerful enough to blow up our planet at least a hundred times. If the worst of the scenarios would happen it would involve explosions which would pollute our atmosphere for millennia, destabilize the axis of the earth resulting in a chaotic orbit that would kill all life on earth. Well, too bad for the human race! But do not believe for one second that this would not have any impact on the equilibrium of the other planets of our system; and that our deranged solar system would not have any impact on the worlds around, whether they are close or far away. We are not disconnected from the rest of the universe and we are surprised even shocked that extraterrestrials come to interfere in our business.

But my vision did not stop there. If it is true that the kind of antimatter in the fusion of the atom had the means to destroy all form of matter at all levels of frequency to the point of creating a hole in space, it could also destroy all form of possible life including the subtle bodies and their emanations. That I had understood already. It was the destruction of all form of life including the possible survival in the superior worlds; since being made also of matter, more ethereal, vibrating to higher frequencies certainly, but still substance.

And this is where I got a shock. In a flash I understood wider. The spiritual worlds around the earth are also in danger! We are not only going to destroy humans who live on the earth at this time and take away their eternity; but also we are going to kill all those who have lived before us and who are now in permanence, thanks to their evolution in these superior worlds. And there are all these beings of light who are bound for larger universe; finally it is going to kill also all these angelic beings born in periphery of our planet but have never passed through incarnation. And I thought of all the people that I have known who are now deceased and who I hope are living more serene hours in the afterlife. It was unsustainable. I had in front of me a world built of pain and misery for thousands of years that could be destroyed by a handful of individuals for a brief and absurd dispute over a fence.

I pause to explain how our identity functions. We have many bodies of which the first three are necessary for our consciousness; the physical body, then the emotional body and finally the mental body. Each new body is made of more subtle matter and unfold a little bigger around oneself. At the death of the physical body, it is the emotional body that becomes the basic vehicle supported by the mental body and the third I call the emotional body. Three bodies are essential for the individual consciousness to continue. These successive layers of body increasingly ethereal create our personality. Therefore, you should know that the spiritual worlds are also layers more and more subtle which unfold around the earth (in fact they are the subtle bodies of the planet) and it is there that our ancestors and superior entities live, issued from the terrestrial evolution. Even though they vibrate at another level of frequency, invisible to our senses most of the time, all these beings belong to our world.

Then a light bulb went on. Why all these messages since the fifties coming from extraterrestrials who are warning us of the danger that we impose on the planet.. Why do all these spiritual beings urge us to change, to live in love? Why at this moment so many human beings are receiving through channeling, terrible messages about the end of the world. We end up not knowing who is talking to us? Are they ET, angelic beings, the deceased, spiritual masters, stellar people or even demons? But it does not matter any more.

THEY ARE ALL TALKING TO US because they are all concerned. Their worlds and their lives are threatened. Our atomic bombs that we exploded in the past did not only affect the surface of the earth, they destroyed parts of the paradise (promised at the end of our days) which is located around the earth; they have shaken and devastated some parallel worlds (in symbiosis with us); they affected many other worlds in periphery to the extent of being perceived at the edge of the universe. You still have not understood that the universe is an immense living organism. Like for you, a toe injury is felt all the way up to the head in a fraction of a second and affect all your body.

It is no longer important to know WHO is sending WHAT. Messages of awakening, severe warnings, waves of growth, billows of love, frightful images of disaster, forced evolution. Everything is good to wake us up. They even give themselves the right to lie to us about their real identities, their real intentions if it is to provoke in us a spark of progress, openness, understanding. If the truth is too hard for the consciousness of a child, how to prevent him from the extreme danger incurred by his actions without traumatizing him. Billions of beings, under hundreds of forms, at multiple levels of evolution are threatened by a child who holds a match in his hand in the middle of a warehouse of explosives. If aliens had not intervened throughout these past recent years to repair 'blunders' done by humans, there would be no life on earth today.

If you have never prayed for the well-being of your world, it would now be time to start.

They could try to reassure me by telling me that they control the situation, that everything will be done to avoid the worst. I am a human who cannot stop being afraid in the dark.

Now you understand what made me serious and took away, for a while, the lightness in my being. I am a human who has the pretension of not being afraid of anything except....to lose my right to eternity.

It is my vision.
